

Ken Williams

Vice President, Administrative Services

Ken came to Intermountain Electronics after 10 years experience as an independent Information Technology (IT) consultant, interfacing with hundreds of clients for all their IT needs. His first task was to implement a state of the art Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) system to give Intermountain Electronics the tools needed to succeed in today's market. Through three years ERP implementation and refinement, Ken began taking on more responsibility. He currently oversees the Accounting, Procurement, Human Resource and IT functions. He is an avid reader and seeker of knowledge and has recently received a certificate of Human Resource Management as well as a Masters of Business Administration Essentials certification from the University of Utah.
